CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER

THE editor of the HERALD vacates this morning on a two week's furlough. During his absence the editorial chair will be filled by Colonel B. L. PEEL and the business department will be conducted by Mr. W. A. SPALDING.

THE Express of Tuesday in an article on Arizona very strongly implies that mining men are adventurers of doubtful veracity. A change must have come over our cotemporary since the departure of "Lucky" BALDWIN. It was wont to print his every word with comments so adulatory that one could not help thinking of the licking process through which an anaconda puts a rabbit just before swallowing it.

Excursion to Mexico Abandoned.

And why? First, because of Mrs.

Morton's illness; second, yellow fever existed on the route; third, newspapers raised such a howl. It was a crowning shame that providence and by this expedition? the press should have combined to break up a nice little outfit like this. Well, they must store it away with other bunches of sour grapes. Certainly no blame attaches to the Government for the failure. "Pap was willing." Secretary Robinson supplied a liberal outfit for the boys to have a good time, but the plaguey newspapers had to spoll it by "howling." It is a strange thing that a rich old father cannot afford a few of his boys a nice, pleasant recreation without exciting the envy and enmity of all the balance of the family. But it has ever been thus. Joseph's brethren were all vexed when that little fellow received a pretty striped coat. Esau felt outraged when Jacob received the richest blessing from their blind old father, and the dutiful son, who had remained at home and toiled hard for the old man, was very mad and sulky when the father killed the fattest calf on the farm to make a feast for a prodigal brother who had spent a fortune dancing with harlots. It seems to be only a peculiarity of human nature, and we hope these disappointed gentlemen will look at it in that light.

Connecticut Politics.

Connecticut has wheeled back into heart, or hate it like fury. In either line. It has been Democratic in State | case she will stick till Gabriel blows politics and Republican in National his trumpet. But as she is so constipolitics until the recent election. She was represented in the last Congress one thing at a time, her journal is with General Campos, at Olot, under a by three Republicans and one Democrat. Advices received as to the result of the elections on the 5th instant | they love more than a beautiful love reverse the order and they will be represented in the next Congress by three Democrats and one Republican-perhaps by four Democrats, as the result in the Third District seems to be doubtful. It will be remembered that the Republican party of Connecticut were pledged to support the third term policy, and their cause was stronger, perhaps, in that State than any other in the Union. The result of this election takes the last feather out of the cap of the third-term party. There cannot now remain a lingering hope that that party can receive a respectable minority vote in any State in the Union. They stand rebuked by their best friends. The contest for the Governorship was strictly partizan and the result was over 8,000 Democratic majority. INGERSOL, who has been re-elected, received a majority in 1874, of only 1,089 votes. At that time there was a temperance candidate in the field, and that ticket cast 4,960 votes. There was no Temperance candidate in this contest, but the influences were such that the Temperance vote was mainly cast for the Republican candidate. We consider that the result of this election has a greater political significance than any that has or will take place during the present year.

Grant Speaks.

The President says he has not expressed his views to any one, not even to the Secretary of State, in relation to the present troubles in Texas. Two reasons are given why he had not expressed his views, viz.: 1st. He had been absent from Washington and so had the Secretary of State. 2d. The Government was not yet fully advised of the extent of the outrages. Away off here in California we may not be able to appreciate these reasons as fully as those do who live under the shadow of the White House. We have always understood that Washington was the principal place of business for the President of the United States and the Secretary of State. But when the most urgent necessity arises requiring their presence they are both absent. The second excuse is flimsy, to say the GUM TREES.

I WILL DELIVER ANY QUANTITY OF Gum Trees anywhere in this or San Bernardino county, ranging in height from 6 to 12 inches, within six months from date of contruct, at from six to twelve cents per tree. Address, RALPH ROGERS, Orange, Los Angeles Co. Los Angeles, April 2, 1875.

ATTENTION CORPORATE.

The Capture of the United States mail, and the mail carrier. But he treats it as a matter of trivial importance. "The matter would probably be brought before the Cabinet." "We must hereafter determine what will be proper to be done in the premises." This is cool. The people on the border of Texas are being murdered and relimination of the Carolina. In Hancock county sixteen houses were destroyed at one place, and in Glasscock county thirty-five lives were lost. At Mayville, in Warren county, three negices were killed, their bodies being carried a half mile. The total list of killed and wounded foots 105 killed, and 123 wounded. The tornado is thus described by a correspondent: "Those who viewed it from the Scrutt."

> San Francisco News-Damaged Crops-Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7th.-Daniel K. Meek, a fire and life insurance broker doing business at 224 Sansome street, committed suicide yesterday afternoon at his lodgings, 704 Howard street, by taking laudanum. He was a man about thirty years of age, and was not known to have any relatives in this city. He is believed to have an uncle in Amador county. The Cor-oner was notified and the body removed to the Morgue. Dispatches from various parts of the State indicate that extensive damage to the fruit crop has been done by the late severe frosts. The apricots and other early fruits have suffered most. peatedly been reminded of outrages heretofore committed by Mexicans upon citizens of the United States, both in Mexico and the United States.

The Board of Supervisors adjourned esterday until the May session. A sixteen-pound cauliflower is the latest astonisher in San Bernardino. The Orizaba sails for San Francisco Mayor Beaudry's decision in the test ase of the saloon keepers will be rendered to-morrow. The barkentine Discovery, Captain McIntyre, arrived at Wilmington yesterday, after a six days' voyage from Port Discovery. Two cases were before Mayor Beaudry yesterday. One drunk was sent up for ten days, and one for resisting an offices twenty-four hours and $20. A gentleman from Soledad reports a slight shock of earthquake in that re-gion at 5 o'clock last Sunday morn-

The Board of Supervisors yesterday took measures to inaugurate an official survey of the lines between Los Angeles, San Diego and San Bernardino

A San Francisco exchange says Rev. Dr. Tombes, of Carleton College, O., formerly pastor at Delaware, having purchased a tract of land near Anahelm will remove to that place.

The Los Angeles Presbytery which convened in San Bernardino last Thursday was attended by representa-tives from nearly every city in South-ern California.

Mr. S. C. Foy, Master of Los Angees Lodge, No. 42, F. & A. M., leaves to-day for San Francisco, where he goes as representative of Los Angeles Chapter, No. 33. R. A. M., to the Grand Chapter, which meets in that city on Tuesday the 18th inst.

During the rather coolish zephyr which prevailed yesterday, one to the manor born met a new arrival with the query, "How do you like our New Italy?" "New—," was the response, accompanied with a "cuss word," "you had better call it New Alaska!" Some people are never satisfied.

A faro-game, on Los Angeles street, was broken up Tuesday night by offi-Miss C. M. TURNER has removed to the controlled building, where she will sell everything in the Stationery line are known to the authorities. The faro dealer was arraigned before Judge Gray and bound over in the sum of May. $200 to appear before the Grand Jury.

Our Editor-in-Chief, Mr. J. M. Bassett, leaves for San Francisco by the Orizaba to-day. He will be absent two or three weeks, dividing his time between business and pleasure and generally enjoying his short parole from the editorial sanctum. We trust that our readers will bear with our shortcomings during the interim, with the assurance that they will all be made up and more on Mr. Bassett's

The report of our railroad business for the year 1874 originally published in the HERALD, has found its way into the columns of the International Ga-It is there reproduced in French and Spanish and distributed to 50,000 subscribers. Our cotemporary, La Cronica, as an exchange of the Gazette, was the means of conveying this information, which furnishes such a creditable ndex of the business of Southern California. Thus the name and fame of Los Angeles is carried to the four quarters of the globe.

Madame Arabella Goddard's Concert.

The last of Madame Goddard's concerts in Los Angeles took place last night, and was a great success in every respect. We are very glad to record that the great artist can include our city in her long list of triumphs. Not only is it most gratifying to the distinguished lady herself, but it also shows that the reputation which this rising city bears for possessing proba-bly more musical local talent than any other of equal population in the State of California is not an empty title, and when an artist of even the highest standard in the world visits us it is satisfactory to know that he or she can command appreciative, enthusiastic and paying audiences. Madame Goddard's first piece was entitled "Erin," by Sir Julius Benedict, one of the havura style, bristling with difficulties, chords, chromatic passages and runs from one end of the key-board to the other. The plaintive air, "My Lodging is on the Cold Ground," was Lodging is on the Cold Ground," was brought out with exquisite feeling, and the martial strains of the "Minstrel Boy" were rendered with real enthusiasm. The Madame's second piece was Handel's delicious "Harmonious Blacksmith." This grand old theme was played with a touching simplicity, the variations being rendered with true feeling and the pianissimo passages were something marvellous. A grand Scotch Fantasia was next laid under contribution and served well to display the lady's verserved well to display the lady's ver-satility of talent. The crowning tri-umph of Madame Goddard was the rendering of Thalberg's "Home, Sweet Home." This is one of her special pieces. Those who have not heard her in this elaborate fantasis can form no idea how it ought to be played. The pathos which is infused into this simpathos which is infused into this simple air is truly touching, and the singing quality of the piano is brought out to the full extent. The chords of the finale were struck with wonderful force and wound up the elegant piece with remarkable effect. We need scarcely say that this piece, like the others, met with a demonstrative encore, and that the lady very graciously played another piece after each of those

The Spell.

The spelling - match mania broke out in Los Angeles last night. It was under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, held at Good Templars' Hall and attended by all who could squeeze into the room with any reasonable degree of comfort. Every one was on the qui vive over an affair so long since grown obsolete and so recently made novel. About 8 o'clock Mr. Gillette, President of Ceremonies, called the assemblage to order and the programme was opened by a song-"Anzette, published at Bruxellas, Belgium. | gels Ever Bright and Fair"-charmingly rendered by Miss Nellie White. The real feature of the evening was then entered upon with a zest. Mr. Gillette was appointed pronouncer; Rev. A. M. Campbell Umpire, and Messrs. Bland and Waldron leaders of the opposing sides. A quarter was tossed for first choice. Mr. Waldron won, and selected Miss Yda Addis. Mr. J. J. Ayers was the first choice on the side of Mr. Bland. Then the selections continued until seventeen of the company were arrayed on either side of the nall in opposing lines, pre-pared for the onslaught upon the dictionary. Many who were called upon to participate, declined through diffidence or a lack of confidence in their spelling-book acquirements. The HERALD local was exments. The HERALD local was excused under both heads. Then the spelling and the slaughter of the innocents commenced. Mrs. Gillette went down on "altar" (a pious procedure) being unable to answer the poser pronounced by her husband. Mr. Bianchard couldn't see "daguerrotype," and subsided without an effort, while a youngster named Katz. standing a youngster named Katz, standing hardly above Blanchard's knee (very small!) went through the word in tri-umph. Our young friend Smith, fond as he is of the ladies, gave it up on "sibyl," and took the mitten grace-fully. A double row was moved down by the word "caoutchouc," which no-body save the little boy before men-tioned seemed to understand. "Prescience" was hurled at Mr. Bland and "Esquimaux" at Mr. Waldron, when both leaders fell in quick succession. "Ficdouloureux" proved the knight which vanquished all finally and the floor was left without a champion. After this refreshments were passed around by the ladies, a recitation by Mr. Bland succeeded and the evening's amusement was closed by another spelling-match, in which Miss Addis

A Good Word for Us. The San Francisco Chronicle of the 4th instant pays us the following graceful tribute: "It seems as though the whole State of California was prospering; as though every department of business had received a new and healthful impulse. We somehow feel in the very atmosphere there is a vitalizing influence and that our State core, and that the lady very graciously played another plece after each of those on the programme, to the inexpressible delight of her audience. The vocalists, Mile, Franzini and Sig. Marra, filled up the In erstices of the programme very pleasingly. Madame Goddard's performances are splendid lessons to aspiring pianoforte players who are privileged to hear her, and we will conclude by wishing the fair artist every success in her career of usefulness and adornment of the noble art of which she is so faithful an exponent.

The Privilege of Inebriety.

Is getting drunk an offense against the public peace? Is drinking whisky to an excess a violation of the law and the ordinance? It was, we believe, King Charles of England who passed a law that a man might get as drunk as an owl, provided he did not disturb or inconvenience any one else by so doing. The usual city ordinance makes it an offense to become drunk and disorderly; or, what is the same thing, to get so drunk as to become a nuisance. But these conditions must be attached to make a drunken man liable to arrest and fine. To get comfortably, quietly and unobtrusively drunk, is no violation of the law or infringement on the rights of citizens. This fact was demonstrated in the Mayor's Court of this city Monday. A man was arrested for being drunk, and the Mayor fined him five dollars. He was taken from the municipal authorities on a writ of habeas corpus, and on the showing that he was inof-fensively, harmlessly drunk, he was discharged. His attorney, Col. How-ard, has established a precedent which may enable many a poor fellow who has filled his skin full of benzine, to escape what has heretofore been set up as the legal consequences of his indiscretion.
